The Mantooth Company celebrates the milestone of 15 years

Executing over 225 events, helping to raise over 3 million for nonprofits and volunteering over 3,000 are just a few noteworthy things the company has done in 15 years

FORT COLLINS, COLO. – This November, The Mantooth Company celebrates the milestone of 15 years of businesses.

“Everyone told me a company like this couldn’t work,” owner Connie Hanrahan said. Hanrahan’s idea was simple: “provide great customer service at a reasonable price and work with those whom you feel a connection – individuals who guide themselves by the same business acumen and ethics.”

Fifteen years later, The Mantooth Company has become known as a top marketing, public relations and event planning company in Northern Colorado and was just recently ranked in the Top 10 marketing firms in the Northern Colorado Business Report.

During the past 15 years, Mantooth has executed 225 events which helped to raise over $3 million for area nonprofits; Mantooth has worked with over 65 clients in developing marketing and PR campaigns; and The Mantooth Staff collectively has volunteered for over 3,000 hours. Specifically, Hanrahan has volunteered for Colorado State University for 17 years and is currently the CSU Ram Club Board President. Hanrahan has mentored over 45 student interns and in 2010, was named Mentor of the Year by the Northern Colorado Business Report.
